World Environment Day at SkyMark One

The New Delhi Nature Society organized a remarkable event on 4th and 5th of June on the occasion of World Environment Day at SkyMark One, Noida. The event was a celebration of our collective commitment to preserving and cherishing the environment and spreading awareness for the same.

The event kicked off with an engaging art workshop where participants unleashed their creativity by painting recycled plastic keychains, origami butterflies, and planters. As part of our ongoing efforts to support birdlife, we distributed free mitti (clay) bowls designed specifically for our avian friends, to quench their thirst during the hot season. Along with the mitti bowls, to encourage the growth of green spaces, free flower seeds were generously distributed to all attendees. The event was filled with excitement along with fun games for all ages. In our quest to raise awareness about the rich bird species found in Delhi, NDNS distributed brochures that provided fascinating insights into the diverse avian population.

A merchandise stall featuring eco-friendly products was also set up, providing an opportunity to support sustainable practices. The stall also offered variety of other merchandises like mugs, stickers, frames, booklets about Delhi trees and bird badges.

We extend our heartfelt gratitude to all the participants, volunteers, and sponsors who made this event a grand success. Together, let us continue our journey of preserving the environment and working towards a greener, healthier planet!

Summer Camp

A 5-day summer camp was organized by the New Delhi Nature Society from 5th June- 9th June, where children had the opportunity to connect with nature and explore various outdoor activities. This camp aimed to foster a love for the environment, encourage conservation and provide a fun-filled learning experience for all participants.

On the first day of the camp, the children embarked on an exciting nature walk in the lush, green Sanjay van. Led by experienced naturalists, they explored the diverse flora and fauna of this urban oasis, learning about different plant species, bird identification, the ecosystem, and the importance of preserving natural habitats.

The second day of the camp was dedicated to a film screening session. The Lorax was screened at NDNS HQ, which is about the importance of environmental conservation and taking responsibility for the well-being of our planet. It taught us to recognize the consequences of our actions and their impact on nature, urging us to protect and preserve our environment.

The third day of the camp offered a thrilling experience in nature photography and nature art at Lodhi Garden. The children were asked to identify and click photographs of five things- a flower, a leaf, an insect, an animal, and a tree. Later children were asked to gather items they could find around them in the garden and create artwork together using them.

On the fourth day, the camp took a trip to a farm called Green Vibes. Here, the children got firsthand experience of sustainable farming practices. They had the chance to harvest fresh produce, connect with the food cultivation process, and enjoy a feast of their hard work.

The fifth and final day of the camp featured a tree-climbing workshop in Nehru Park. The children learned the techniques and safety measures of tree climbing, enabling them to appreciate the beauty of nature from a unique perspective. This activity encouraged them to develop a sense of adventure while instilling a deep appreciation for trees and their role in the ecosystem.

Throughout the camp, New Delhi Nature Society prioritized environmental education, instilling a sense of responsibility towards the natural world. The 5-day summer camp provided an unforgettable experience for children, enabling them to explore the wonders of nature, develop new skills, and build long lasting connections with fellow nature enthusiasts. It served as a platform for them to become more conscious of their surroundings, empowering them to become future custodians of the environment.

Tree Climbing Event

New Delhi Nature Society organized another thrilling Tree Climbing Event on 18th June at Nehru Park, offering a unique opportunity for nature enthusiasts and adventure seekers to connect with trees and embrace the beauty of the natural world. The event aimed to promote a deeper connection with nature, and foster a sense of adventure among participants.

Participants of all ages gathered early in the morning, awaiting the opportunity to ascend the mighty trees that grace the park. The climbers were introduced to various types of trees found in the park, like the Pilkhan, Bottle Brush, Shesham, Champa, Neem, and many more, gaining insights into their characteristics, benefits, and the role they play in maintaining ecological balance.

The event aimed to foster a sense of connection with nature, promote outdoor activities and raise awareness about the significance of trees in our urban environment. It provided an opportunity for individuals to witness the park's lush greenery from a different perspective.

By promoting activities like tree climbing, NDNS aims to encourage a sense of responsibility towards our environment and inspire individuals to become stewards of nature. NDNS looks forward to organizing more engaging events in the future and continuing its mission to connect people with the beauty and importance of our natural surroundings.
